

Joey Korn's Real Estate Blessing

Whether you're selling your own home, helping a friend, or selling homes as a real estate agent, I suggest you go through the Three-Step Process over the home and property first, then go through this blessing:

Dear God (or however you address the Divine),
Please bless this home and property
And charge it with energy
To create an ideal energy environment
To attract the right people at the right time
To see the value in owning this property
For its highest and best use,
To arrange for a mutually beneficial price
For all concerned,
And an easily negotiated and timely closing,
For now and into the future,
For as long as is appropriate.
Thank you.
Amen.
